

All Our Children

The Sheen Center for Thought & Culture
presents the American premiere of
ALL OUR CHILDREN.

*1941. Germany.
Who decides if a child lives?*

A terrible crime is taking place in a German clinic for disabled children. The perpetrators argue that it will help struggling parents and lift the financial burden on the mighty Third Reich. One brave voice is raised in objection. But will anyone listen?

Stephen Unwin's riveting new play is set against a forgotten chapter of the Holocaust, the murder of disabled children and young people, remembering those who died and those who fought against this injustice. Tony Award® winner John Glover (Saint Joan, Love! Valour! Compassion!, "Smallville") is featured in this production directed by Ethan McSweeney (Gore Vidal's The Best Man, A Time to Kill).

All Our Children is a timely work of historical fiction, but rooted firmly in the true evils of the past.

The Sheen Center for Thought & Culture
The Black Box Theater
18 Bleecker Street (at the corner of Bleecker & Elizabeth)
(between 2 main streets: Lafayette & Bowery)
New York, NY 10012

Groups 10+

April 6 – May 12, 2019

Not appropriate for children under 13

Seating is general admission. VIP reserved seating is the front row of all four sides of the playing area. Specific seats cannot be reserved but you are guaranteed an unobstructed seat in the front row.

GreatWhiteWay.com
(212) 757-9117 | (888) 517-0112