

Here she is, boys. Here she is, world.

AUDRA GYPSY

Six-time Tony Award® winner Audra McDonald will reopen the Majestic Theatre in GYPSY, one of the finest musicals in Broadway history, with a book by Arthur Laurents, music by Jule Styne and lyrics by Stephen Sondheim.

McDonald plays the mother of all roles, the domineering stage mother Rose, in this fundamental tale of an ambitious stage mother in the early 20th Century, when vaudeville was dying and burlesque was born. Secretly longing for her own stardom, she will do anything to make her young daughters Vaudeville stars.

Suggested by the memoir of stripper Gypsy Rose Lee, this new production, helmed by Tony Award-winning visionary director George C. Wolfe (Take Me Out) and choreographed by Tony nominee Camille A. Brown (Hell's Kitchen), contains many popular numbers that became classics, including “Let Me Entertain You,” “Together, Wherever We Go,” “Small World,” “All I Need Is the Girl,” and, of course, “Everything’s Coming Up Roses.”
